2016

ANNUAL REPORT

Amazing job, Hospice of San Joaquin Butterfly Auxiliary!

Our Vision

To be the premier Hospice Agency serving the Central Valley, distinguished by excellence in service & committed to expanding access to those in need.

Our Mission

The mission of Hospice of San Joaquin, a not-for-profit organization, is to provide comprehensive & compassionate medical care, counseling & support to terminally ill patients & their families, regardless of ability to pay, & to educate & collaborate with health care providers & the public in promoting end-of-life care.

Dear Friends of Hospice of San Joaquin,

This year Hospice of San Joaquin celebrated 35 years of services to those in the community. We were generously given the opportunity to commemorate this milestone at the beautiful Cortopassi estate. It was an amazing evening enjoyed by employees past and present, donors, and volunteers.

When I reflect on the last 35 years and what it took for Hospice of San Joaquin to become what it is today, it is almost overwhelming. Hospice of San Joaquin was founded by members of our community, whose sole goal was to help those in the community suffering with life limiting illnesses; this was a humanitarian endeavor. All of those involved in the creation of Hospice of San Joaquin were volunteers. Then, in 1981, Hospice of San Joaquin became incorporated and hired the founding Executive Director, Barbara Tognoli. Under the leadership of Barbara Tognoli, Hospice of San Joaquin became a beacon in the community for those needing end of life comfort and care.

Fast forward 35 years and Hospice of San Joaquin remains an amazing not-for-profit organization continuing to fulfill our original mission. This has not be an easy task over the last five years, as many for-profit hospice organizations have opened in San Joaquin County. This has caused much confusion in the community. Many people believe hospices are one-and-the-same and share the same mission, rather than separate with varying objectives. Our only mission is to support and care for patients and their families at the end of life, while for-profit hospices must also keep their stakeholders happy.

In Fiscal Year 2015-2016, Hospice of San Joaquin served 1,250 hospice patients and their families. Additionally, we provided $1,163,290 in unreimbursed & unfunded patient care services, including community & health professional education, children & caregiver support, and palliative care through our Transitions program. All of this is made possible due to the support we receive from our donors and volunteers.

Countless dedicated volunteers, board members, donors, and employees have made Hospice of San Joaquin what it is today. On behalf of our patients and their families, I want to thank everyone who has ever served Hospice of San Joaquin as an employee or volunteer, as well as our generous donors who financially support our mission. YOU are the reason we are able to celebrate an amazing 35 years of success.

Warmly,

Rebecca Burnett, MPA, BSN, RN, CHPN, CHA
Chief Executive Officer

HOSPICE OF SAN JOAQUIN SERVICES

Volunteer Department

Visitation between patients and animals promotes positive effects socially, physically, and emotionally. Socially, the interaction boosts activity and conversation. Physically this companionship reduces physical pain, blood pressure, and stress. Emotionally, pet therapy visits can lower anxiety, depression and the feeling of loneliness. Hospice of San Joaquin is lucky to have an active group of Pet Therapy Teams, who visit, cuddle and play with our patients, families, and staff. They are also active in our Kids Bereavement program. Here are some thoughts and experiences shared by a few human members of our teams.

"I had no idea what a life changing journey my partner and I were starting on that first visit to Hospice of San Joaquin" states Lynne Lynch, first member of our Pet Therapy Program. Lynne has worked with 4 different dogs, and is a regular at our Hospice House. She says working with her dogs here "is not a job, but a passion." Her first dog, "Paddy Bear" died at a young age. A big, beautiful golden retriever, he was loved by all and Lynne takes pride knowing his Legacy is pet therapy at Hospice House.

Debbie Morrow and Winston (a big white labradoodle), provide joy, humor, and unconditional love to those facing end of life. They were asked to visit a patient who was unresponsive. Winston entered the room and the family put their dad's hand on Winston's soft fluffy head. Dad smiled and passed shortly after. At the funeral, the family mentioned Winston and said their father passed with a smile on his face because of him.

Adrienne Hotchkiss and Mitch (golden retriever) remember that one day," Mitch and I entered a room and there was a gentleman sitting in a wheelchair. I asked if he wanted a visit and he nodded." I introduced Mitch and he told me about his Australian Shepard at home and he missed him. We chatted a bit more and he thanked me for visiting. I went to the nurses' station and told them I had a nice visit with the man in room 5. They said he has not said a word since he had been there and asked if I would wait for his wife. So I did and told her about my n visit with her husband. She asked me to go back to his room again. When we reentered the room, the patient smiled and said how much he loved dogs. His wife broke down in tears as she had not heard his voice in 6 weeks...ah, the power of the Dog!

Department of Education and Clinical Outreach

As Director of Education & Clinical Outreach education is more important than ever. I continue to be invited to speak to colleges, on behalf of Hospice of San Joaquin, in the local area as well as having nursing programs complete clinical hours at our campus in 2016.

Continuing our strong relationship with San Joaquin General Hospital, we welcome residents and interns from both the Internal and Family Medicine Departments within the hospital. It is a critical piece of educating forward. Always instilling the hospice message in new doctors who will be joining the ranks of our amazing physicians in our county.

Hospice of San Joaquin also offers education to all skilled nursing and residential care facilities in our county and spends many hours in the community educating on the benefits of hospice care at end of life.

“Words cannot begin to express how much your kindness and support have meant to our family during this time. Your memories of our mother and understanding of our sorrow have helped sustain all of us, Thank you”.

-- Cattrone Family”

Transitions Program

Transitions is a community service program whose main goal is to ‘make life a little easier’ for individuals facing advancing chronic or life limiting illness. It is professionally managed, volunteer based and designed to help individuals navigate the physical, emotional and social challenges that often occur with serious illness. Transitions services include practical assistance, support and information—no hands on nursing care is provided. Services are sponsored by Hospice of San Joaquin and offered at no cost to community residents and their family. From July 1, 2015 through June 30, 2016, Hospice of San Joaquin’s Transitions Program received 251 referrals and had an average daily census of 93.

Bereavement Services

Just as no one has the same fingerprint, neither do people grieve the loss of a loved one in the same way. Each journey of healing is unique with its own time frame, challenges, and process.

Hospice of San Joaquin’s bereavement department is proud to provide workshops, camps, compassionate care to address these unique needs. Through education, groups, workplace/school care, individual counseling, literature, and phone calls, we reached out to over 4,000 adults, teens and children this year helping guide each one through their grief. Our goal is not to help people ‘forget, let go, or move on’ but instead teach how to engage in a new life while holding on to precious memories. Bereavement Care is offered to anyone in the community who is grieving the loss of a loved one.

One of our most uplifting event this year was the Annual Memorial Service, held in the heart of our hospice campus in the labyrinth. Symbolizing the journey of grief, the labyrinth along with the beautiful grounds provided the perfect backdrop to gather together as a community, hear the names of loved ones read aloud intermixed with music, readings, and prayers. At the end, each person released a butterfly in memory of a loved one acknowledging that just as caterpillars transform into butterflies, so too can grieving hearts transform into healed ones.

“Attending the annual memorial service is a tradition that I began after my wife passed away on Hospice of San Joaquin services. I always come with a heavy heart but the service lifts me up. Releasing the butterfly helped remind me of the good and joyous time we had together instead of the dark days of cancer.”

Development

The Development Department at Hospice of San Joaquin has had another banner year. Our signature event, Tree of Lights, raised over $255,000. This annual event, co-sponsored by Pacific Gas & Electric, gives our communities an opportunity to honor and remember loved ones. Those memories stay with us all year long.

On September 12, 2015 we celebrated 35 years of service with our Anniversary Gala at the beautiful Cortopassi Estate. Over 250 guests enjoyed a delicious dinner under the stars. We also honored Dr. Robert Browne at the Gala for his 35 years of service to Hospice of San Joaquin.

Our Hospice of San Joaquin Butterfly Auxiliaries work tirelessly all year long to provide funding for our Hospice House. There are Butterfly Auxiliary Chapters in Stockton, Lodi, Tracy and Manteca. The events coordinated by the volunteers include: Champagne and English Tea, Kentucky Derby West, Eggstravaganza, Tots and Tail Waggers, All American BBQ, Sip n Stroll and Hats, Heels and Harvest Luncheon. All of these events put on by the Hospice of San Joaquin Butterfly Auxiliary Chapters provided over $262,000 to support the Hospice House. Please see our calendar of events on our website for more information on our 2016-17 events.

Truckin' for Hospice is another annual event held in June sponsored by the California Trucking Association. The 15th annual motorcycle ride included a route through the beautiful foothills and the riders enjoyed great food and a poker run. The event raised $34,000 for Hospice of San Joaquin.

We were again voted "Best of San Joaquin" and are honored to provide quality care to patients and their families in the greater San Joaquin area. Thank you to all of our donors, community partners, volunteers and supporters for making 2015-16 another exceptional year.
